A Splash Of Reality

In a school of approximately 1,000 students the Senior class consists of 221. Out of all these students about eight have decided to dedicate many hours of hard work to put this yearbook together. Each one of them deserve an equal amount of credit along with Mr. Steven Leblanc who deserves a great deal of respect!

As the year began, I believe many students were not aware of the realities of their Senior year. Deadlines, reports, grades, participation, these are all examples that are part of preparation for graduation. Many of the students applied to Colleges and have been accepted, others have chosen different roads.

On another note the class was faced with a terrible reality. Around December, when the Middle East crisis was building up, many of our students were awakened to the fact that they might have to go into the service if the war got bad enough. Others had to accept the fact that loved ones who are in the service would be going to war. Many faculty members tried to comfort those who are directly involved in the war.

Another fact that awakened many of us was an article written by Mr. Pandiscio about racism. Many of the students were appalled by the accusations he made and rallied against his comments. Yes there are racist people in society and I believe there always will be, but I as a school student like to think we are a part of a large family and are not part of the racist society. We accept people the way they are but we do not tolerate violence or discrimination.

During the month of March the public voted against building a new High School. Students and faculty were both outraged by this, but nothing could be done. We have accepted the fact and realize the reasons although we do not always agree.

In world full of so much poverty and heartache it is hard to focus on positive facts. We as a class hope that in the future we can contribute our talents along with others to make a better world. There's a lot of hard work to be done in order to make things change but we feel that in a few years we'll be able to face them.

All in all the year was great. We have enjoyed being a part of Fitchburg High and will never forget our High School years. So get ready world cause here we come! The class of '91.

A Splash Of Fun

The Senior Reception to the Faculty. Already Tuesday, September 11th, 1990. Talk about a splash of reality! Our first class function as Seniors. Seniors already! There's no turning back now!

It was a perfect evening for fun and games. The first game was volleyball. However, it wasn't much fun, for the girls anyway. The macho guys decided that it was their game. Finally the girls exercised their equal rights and got their chance to volley.

While the war of the sexes was taking place, others were getting ready for the main events. At last Mr. Jerzek got on his big blow horn and announced it was time for the traditional three-legged race. That went smoothly compared to the next game which required running, spinning around in circles with your head resting on a baseball bat, and a strong stomach! (At least we hadn't eaten supper yet!) Laughter and confusion filled the air as dizzy seniors tried to make their way back to their teammates.

Next was the very ripe tomato pass. It was impossible to walk out of there without tomato juice all over you. The egg toss started out mellow. Back and forth, back and forth . . . Enough of that! Dive bomber eggs soared through the air searching for unlucky targets. Crack! Splash! Yuck! We sure worked up our appetite. Then we got the news that the cooks (brave teachers and parents) couldn't get the barbecue started. We had raw hamburgers and hotdogs waiting to be cooked and eaten by many hungry people. Look on the bright side, at least we had McDonald's salads!

With our fingers crossed we continued the games. The lifesaver pass and the orange pass really brought the senior reception class closer. Once students began to eat the lifesavers we knew it was almost time to eat. Teams were getting disqualified! The teachers stood on the sid lines watching and laughing as students were falling their faces in the wheelbarrow race. Good news! Th barbecue was on!

The grand finale was the tug of war. Girl vs. Guys. Th girls really tugged on that rope. They won, too! With th help of the senior guys who let go on their end as othe toppled into a pile of laughing girls. The next try the guy weren't fooling around. They won an easy victory. Tim to eat. Everyone piled into the cafeteria. Teachers an students talked and ate up a storm. The evening was sadl coming to an end, but it marked the beginning of the be year of our lives! Senior Year!

THE REALITY OF VICTORY, A SPLASH OF DEFEAT.

Homecoming always brings a smile to the faces of both the fans and the football players, but this year it also brought fear and hope.

At first the class of 1991 had no idea what to use for a float. At the last minute we decided on Astro would be good. While many of the members hustled around the school trying to finish the float others were busy making posters for the game.

As always, we had to vote for a King and Queen. This year Kim Thomas and Jason Baldini represented the class, along with Devin Grier, Jen Hughes, Jen Reid, Ed Koeck, Frank Gallo, Scott Fietz, Jamie Cascio, Kyle Kirousis, and Chris Joslin. The Junior class was represented by Jodi Legendre, the Sophomores by Jen Scott, and Freshman representative Amy Ortiz. Each of them brought many smiles and happiness to the crowd's cheers.

As for the football players they had a long night ahead of them. Their competitor, North Middlesex, held the record for the longest undefeated high school team in the state. Our guys knew they were in for a tough game.

Going into half time both of the teams were tied. It was not until the last minute of the game that the victory was decided. The game was tied 14-14. North Middlesex had possession and was going for a field goal. With all his heart and might Shannon Keenan blocked the kick. The Fitchburg crowd was ecstatic. Now we had possession. The team worked hard all the way down to the end of the field. Now we were going for the victory; one field goal and we would win. But little did we know that one of their guys would block our field goal. The crowd was confused and wasn't sure what was going to happen. Now the game went into overtime.

North Middlesex was in control of the ball and soon after scored a touchdown followed by a field goal. Now the score was 21-14; we had to score, and we did. With 30 seconds left on the clock we could either score a field goal or go for a two point conversion. Coach Cosenza called a time out and talked to the team. The crowd did not know what to expect. "Hike, hike, hike," Dan Brasili throws the football to Bill Paskell, Paskell goes for the two point conversion . . . SCORE! Fitchburg takes the victory.

Academics

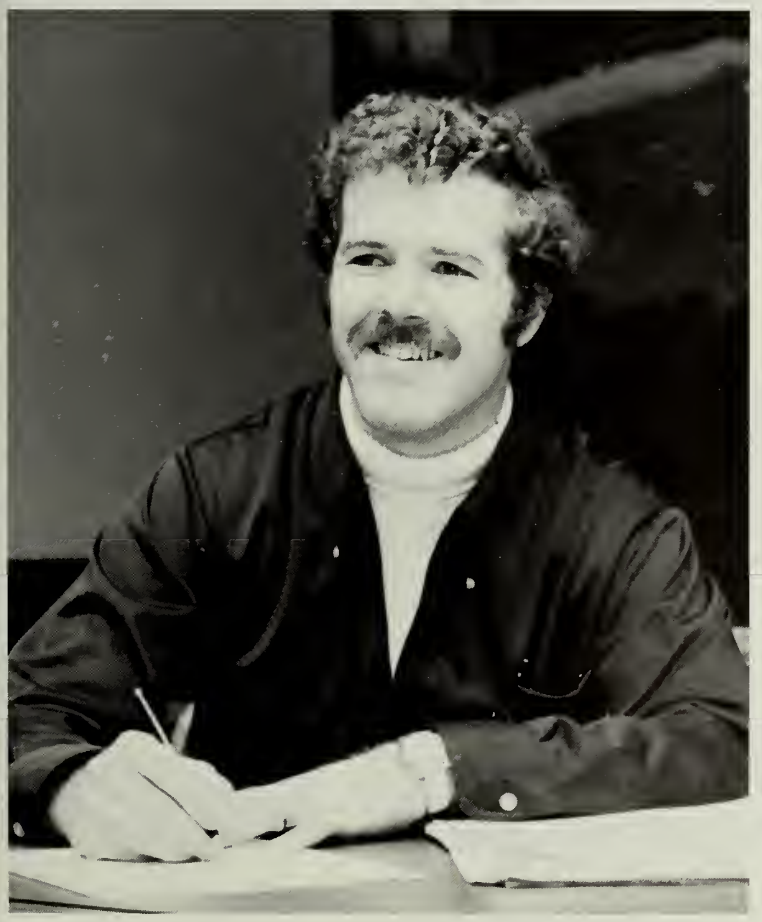

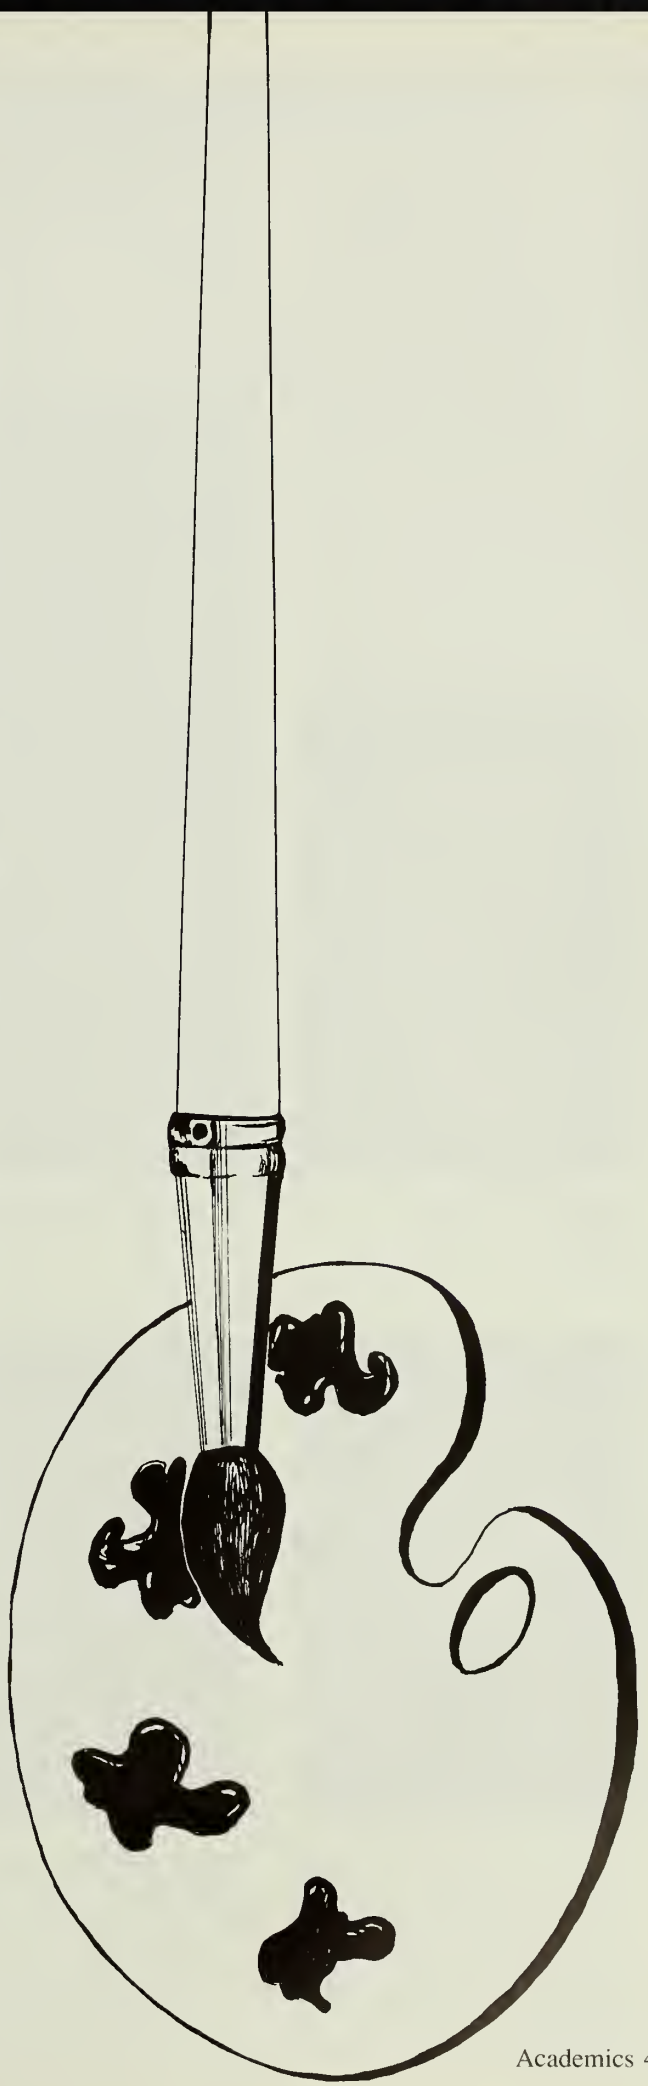

Administration

The administration department is the foundation of education at Fitchburg High School. Mr. Welch, Principal, Mr. Mara, Soph./Sr. Vice Principal and Mr. Hurd, Fr./Jr. Vice Principal, form the respected group of hardworking men who hold the student body and faculty together. Always helpful and caring, their relationships with students are personal and open. Nevertheless, we students learn from them the important elements of discipline. Never a stone left unturned, they work together to present a reputable high school to the community. They represent to us excellence in leadership.

Secretarial Staff

These woman are the backbone of F.H.S. Always shining with a smile, they are the finest staff of note takers, mediatior, phone talkers, translators, mind readers... to put it mildly they are super human. Handling everything from college transcripts, applications and attendance sheets, they perform well under pressure. All in all, these women are definitely dedicated to the future of America because they work hard for the students and most of the time go unappreciated. Let's give them a round of applause!

Physical Education Department

The physical education department at F.H.S. is composed of brave men and woman. They have the more dagerous jobs at F.H.S. Ducking as a floor hockey puck wizzes by, these teacher-stackle problems of swollen ankles, bruised faces, and heated student arguments concerning who's turn it is to serve the volleyball. They attempt to keep the sometimes whining student body in shape with pillow polo, basketball, volleyball, etc... Patricia Flaherty
B.A. Education, Elms College; and M.A.T., Fitchburg State College. Fr. and Sr. English. She enjoys swimming. Her message to the Seniors is, "Always treasure and broaden your education."

English Department

The teachers in the English Department are always discovering creative new ways to teach whether it be "cooperative group learning" or five page book reports, from Freshman to Senior year these intriguing teachers strive to turn students into learned individuals. They work closely with students to battle the sickness known as "writer's block" and soon imaginations soar. Here grammar and vocabulary are taught handily by these eloquent men and women. In English class you can travel to England with Dickens or Shakespeare. You can read alluring novels such as Animal Farm, Catcher and the Rye, Macbeth, ands Wuthering Heights. As you toss your thesaurus out the window and dig into the depths of your own knowledge, as a student you are prepared by these influential teachers to tackle college life or the real world.

Math Department

Probably the most feared subject in school, students ask the inevitable question, "When will we ever need to use this stuff?" The teachers in this department are very talented. First, they will amaze you as they pull formulas out of the air leaving students staring in awe. Don't fret, however, because these teachers understand your confusion and are willing to help you contemplate the LAW OF COSINES or the Quadratic Formula. Secondly, the warm feelings that circulate through the classroom make you feel right at home with these brilliant scholars. Third, after deciding against a career in comedy, these witty teachers are never lacking in something to say and what they say is never lacking in humor. These teachers are definitely among the most committed to the profession. Determined to equip the students with graphing calucators and the brains to use them, you will never leave the room saying "Was I snoring?" For an interesting note, did you know your combinations on your lockers are actually called permutations?" Well, I learned that in math class.

Mrs. Dyer helps one of her students with an experiment.

Science Department

This department offers the students a multitude of different courses as well as guidance from F.H.S.'s remarkable "scientists," whether it be physics, chemistry, biology or astronomy. There is never a dull moment in the science classroom. "BANG!"... there goes Mr. Schedin again as he performs a "mysterious" experiment in chemistry. It's always a treat to disect a fetal pig in Mr. Grautski's or a sheep's eye in Mrs. Dyer's. From exotic plants in Mr. Koykka's to dropping eggs from the third floor (...to see if they will break?) with Mr. Hertel, students are challenged to do their best. However, it's not all work and no fun, especially when Mr. Dignam tells one of his "hilarious" physics jokes. The students at F.H.S. are more than adequately prepared to enter the technical and scientific world of today.

Social Studies Dept.

The social studies department at F.H.S. is highly respected as its magnificent teachers execute their lessons. Travel back in time to WWI with Mr. Sullivan or learn the fundamentals of the U.S. Government with Mr. Tiernan, Mr. Reheiser, or Ms. Milbury. The wide range of courses offered under this department allow students to "take their pick." From World History and law classes to Sociology and Psycology there is so much to learn. You can voice your opinion in class on current news and events or you can research an important historical figure. The men and women devoted to producing from F.H.S. well-rounded students can be found in this department. They are witty, outgoimg, and caring people who the students will definitely reguard as an asset to their high school education.

The 1990 - 1991 year did not get off on the right foot. First of all the yearbook class was cut, so we needed eople to come after school and help. Next their wasn't an advisor, so we thought there wasn't going to be a yearbook t all.

In the beginning of the year we had a whole classroom full of kids willing to help. I have no idea what hap- ened but slowly the help disappeared into nothing. Thanks to a few people including Mr. Welch, Mr. Leblanc Shifty", Mr. Mara, Dennis Miner, Terra Baldarelli, Janice Drumond, Mike Dipasquale, Al Testa, and myself Erica 'ook the 1990 - 1991 yearbook was slowly but surely put together.

In the event of starting the book so late, because of the little help we had to come into school way into July to nish. After graduation everyone went their own way. People had jobs and summer was here so nobody had the time) come in and finish. The help went down to three people doing everything. (Dennis, Terra, and myself.)

This is not the best book ever put together, but considering the help and the time we had it's a wonder we have nything at all.

Colophon

The Boulder is an Annual Publication by the Yearbook Staff of Fitchburg High School, Fitchburg Massachusetts 01420. It was distributed in October 1991.

The Boulder was printed by Hunter Publishing Co./ Jostens. Winston-Salem, N.C. Number of copies was 250. This volume, The seventy-nineth, contains 152 pages with a trim size of 8 1/2" x 11". Our cover, which is hardback, was printed in 2 color using the litho process. It was smythe sewn and made on white book cloth with special lamination for protection. The artwork was completed by Hunter Publishing Co./Jostens, and the original was supplied by a student.

The first 16 pages are printed on # 100 Lustro paper stock, with the remaining 136 pages on # 80 pound dull finish papers.

The type is Times. The ink is red/black. The estimated total cost of producing this book is $10,000, including supplies. Copies cost $50.00. The Boulder is a self-supporting institution. Candid photos in the Boulder '91 were taken by students on the yearbook staff and by professional photographers of Yearbook Associates, Millers Falls, Ma. All developing and printing was done by Yearbook Associates and J&R Photos.

Editor's Note

This Book is Dedicated To Mr. Stephen " Shifty " LeBlanc for all his help even though he was not an Advisor (come to think of it their was no advisor.) This book was put together with some but not much help from the Senior class of 1991. This book is over a Thousand hours of sweat and computer errors. This book may not be glamourous but hey its a book that is to be remembered by the six yearbook staff members that worked very hard so the rest of the class could enjoy a book to remember Fitchburg High School. I myself think it is a great accomplishment to all the people who helped and did most of the work.
